A number of cities have distributed the It All Adds Up to Cleaner Air message in unique and exemplary ways. With a little creativity, your community can do the same. Feel free to duplicate what you see here, or use these examples as inspiration. Clockwise from top: a license plate frame from Arlington, Texas; tire gauge from Miami, Florida; t-shirt and “bubble” pen from Washington, D.C.; Post-It notes from Phoenix, Arizona; calculator from Sacramento, California; flyers, bookmarks, beach ball and frisbee from Portage, Indiana.

It all adds up to cleaner air
